Spring Bonnets—Then and Now

Buying a new chapeau for Spring surely isn't a new practice—but the bonnets themselves certainly are! Peggy Wood, who stars in CBS-TV's "Mama," and Robin Morgan, who plays her littlest child, "Dagmar," are ample proof that things have changed a bit since 1910. On the left, Mama and Dagmar in their best Sunday-go-to-meeting bonnets and Spring coats, for the comedy-drama of a Norwegian-American family at the turn of the century. ... Right, though, Peggy and Robin sport modern "mother and daughter" chapeaux, and fit right into this season's Spring parade.

THE SHIP RETURNS TO PORT

Water in every rivulet the sea. Every wave reaches a shore. Ships return to Port. The deeds of man go on and on.

As the murmuring brook will join the ocean, as the wave will find its shore, the ship cannot return until it leaves, we cannot be proud of what we have done until we do it. Funeral Insurance will not relieve distress someday unless we buy it when we can, now.

Call Stone & Myers, Torrance 195, let us explain Funeral Insurance to you.
